

1915(i) Policy

Provider Enrollment

Interested providers, including those currently enrolled as Medicaid providers, must specifically enroll as a 1915(i) provider. Most providers, including providers such as Federally Qualified Health Centers (FQHCs) that are generally reimbursed on an encounter basis, are able to provide 1915(i) services as long as they enroll as 1915(i) providers and follow 1915(i) requirements. Applicants must have a NPI number.

Group and individual providers must meet prescribed qualifications specific to each service. A group application must be submitted and approved prior to submitting an individual provider application. The 1915(i) requires each individual provider to affiliate with an enrolled 1915(i) group provider. Enrolled providers are responsible for ensuring services are provided within the service scope and must offer the full scope of service. Group providers are responsible for maintaining qualifications required for their group enrollment and oversight of qualifications for individuals affiliated with their group.

1915(i) providers may enroll to provide one or more 1915(i) services, providing they meet the qualifications for each.

Providers can choose to serve certain segments of the population. For example, if an agency specializes in children's services, they can choose to provide 1915(i) services to children and not adults. Likewise, if an agency specializes in services to individuals who have experience an adoption or guardianship, the agency can choose to serve only that population.

Providers can also choose which services to provide in each county or service area.
